1. Introduction

BSC takes seriously its duty of care towards its students and team members regarding bullying. Bullying, especially if left unaddressed, can have a devastating effect on individuals. It can be a barrier to their learning and have serious consequences for their mental health.

This policy pays due regard to the following guidance:

- Prevent and Tackling Bullying (July 2017)
- Cyberbullying: Advice for Headteachers and School Staff (2014) - Education Act 2011

This policy sits alongside our other key policies such as safeguarding and our code of conduct.

There are no stereotypical victims of bullying however, it is stated that (Preventing and Tackling Bullying July 2017) 'bullying involves an imbalance of power between the perpetrator and the victim. This could involve perpetrators of bullying having control over the relationship which makes it difficult for those they bully to defend themselves'.

At BSC we aim to foster caring relationships between all students, treating one another with respect and where all members feel valued. Our duty of care includes protecting all students and team members from harm from bullying. It is imperative that low-level disruption which can include offensive language is challenged appropriately and is not to be dismissed as 'banter'. Therefore, acknowledgement and early intervention is crucial to stop this damaging behaviour from escalating.

This policy outlines what is not acceptable behaviour and the process for reporting bullying, including our anti-bullying strategies.

Bullying of any kind will not be tolerated at BSC. Students and Team members are encouraged to report any kind of bullying whether that be experienced first-hand, witnessed within the college or during any immersive lesson or BSC student experience trip.

Any allegation will be taken seriously, investigated and dealt with accordingly including written warnings, suspension and expulsion. This decision will be made as part of the BSC Management Team for each college location and depending on the severity The Director of Operations will take overall responsibility for and suspension and expulsion of BSC Students.

All cases of serious bullying, reports will be kept and recorded in line with UKGDPR and good practice and will be discussed by BSC management team for each college location to ensure action is taken and to include what lessons can be learned and how BSC can improve its strategies and policies in the future.

This policy sits alongside our student handbook and discipline procedures and students should be aware of not only of our commitment to them and their learning environment but also their commitment to BSC which includes behavioural expectations towards other students and the wider BSC team.

According to our terms and conditions:

Our decision is final.

We shall be under no obligation whatsoever to pay compensation or meet any costs or expenses the student(s) may incur as a result of their course, or course and accommodation, being terminated.

4. Definitions of Bullying

For the purpose of this policy, bullying is defined as behaviour by an individual or group usually repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally, or there is an imbalance of power, which makes it hard for those being bullied to speak up or defend themselves. This can happen face-to-face or online, all forms of bullying can be from either sex, towards either sex, peer-on-peer and of any age.

Students can abuse other students. This is generally referred to as child-on-child abuse and can take many forms. This can include (but is not limited to): bullying (including cyberbullying which includes the use of social media, mobile phones, text messages or photography); sexual violence and sexual harassment; physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm; sexting and initiation/hazing types of violence and rituals. More information on abuse can be found in our BSC safeguarding policy.

All BSC team members must be alert to & aware of how to counter bullying and the procedures to address and support not only the victim but the perpetrator.

There is evidence to suggest that homophobic, bi-phobic and transphobic bullying is under-reported due to the nature and risk of the consequences of doing so. This form of bullying can happen even if students are not part of the LGBTQIA+ community, this type of bullying is based on negative attitudes or prejudice, beliefs or behaviour towards lesbian, gay, bisexual or transgender people and can come in the form of language, gestures or media which can be classed as hate crimes and in severe cases may escalate to police intervention.

This can be in the form of:

- Use of homophobic language
- Looks and comments about sexual orientation or appearance
- Name calling
- Comments on appearance

Cyber-bullying

This involves using technology to intentionally upset another person. The misuse of this technology in terms of bullying can happen at any point throughout the day and although the methodology for this type of bullying is different it does not mean it is any less significant or damaging to the individual. All forms of bullying have no place in BSC culture and counter-measures must take a whole-college approach for tackling this issue.

It is important to recognise that bullying of staff members by parents, colleagues or students is also unacceptable. This is in line with creating a caring and supportive environment for students to learn but it is also imperative to create a culture where by staff can also benefit from this in terms of being free from on-line harassment and bullying. Therefore, it is important for team members to understand policy on the use of social media, not leaving computers or any other devices logged in when not in use and ensuring that PINs are used to protect data loss or images and documents being lost, stolen or accessed by pupils. As regards social media, staff are aware not to accept 'friend' requests from pupils, past or present, nor leave themselves open to inappropriate on-line conduct and be aware of their reputation in terms of what they share, post or 'tagged'.

Cyber-Bullying can take the form of, but not limited to:

- Text messaging including; receiving threatening or disturbing messages or images and sexting
- Sexualised on-line bullying
- Sending video clips or pictures
- Having your account hacked – when someone else uses your password
- Phone calls
- Website bullying (including social media)
- E-mail messaging

- Deliberately ignoring someone
- Taunting – making fun of someone
- Calling someone names
- Gaslighting – actions to control and manipulate another person
- Blackmailing – making someone do something they don't want to do
- Taking someone's property

5.Code of Conduct

Students at BSC must show appropriate behaviour towards their peers, including showing respect to other students, housemates, home stay hosts, team members and visitors as well as members of the wider community

They are encouraged to do this by:

- Being sensitive to others when they may be feeling vulnerable or sad
- Being a part of the praise culture within the college
- Taking responsibility for their own behaviour
- Reporting to staff any acts of bullying
- Following college rules which are clearly set out during their induction

BSC Team members are role models to their students and are expected to exemplify good conduct and follow this policy in relation to anti-bullying also.

6.Procedures

In line with BSC values of creating an open and communicative learning environment all students and team members are encouraged to report any instances of bullying and the following guidance is adhered to:

Students reporting bullying:

- Tell a team member we cannot help if we don't know it is happening
- Tell your family or somebody you trust what has happened straight away
- Get away from the situation as quickly as possible
- Do not blame yourself for what has happened

If you experience bullying on-line, via mobile phone text messages, e-mail or social media:

- Block the bully
- Tell a team member we cannot help if we don't know it is happening
- Keep any texts, emails, images as proof

What happens next:

- A BSC team member will talk to you about what happened

- BSC will put in place measures to stop and address the bullying
- Although bullying does not break UK law, an act of bullying might, and you may be asked if you want to involve the police
- All bullying allegations will be dealt with appropriately and in a timely manner

Where the young person is under 18:

- Don't blame yourself for what has happened
- Any incident of bullying will be discussed with the young person's parents/guardians and parents/guardians will be consulted on action to be taken (for both victim and bully) and agreements made as to what action should be taken
- The Education Act 2011 amended the power in the Education Act 1996 to provide that when an electronic device, such as a mobile phone, has been seized by a member of staff who has been formally authorised by the Principal, that staff member can examine data or files and delete these, where there is good reason to do so. This power applies to all schools and colleges, and there is no need to have parental consent to search through a young person's mobile phone.

Where the person is 18 or over:

- Don't blame yourself for what has happened
- Where the young person has 'full capacity', their decisions on sharing information will be respected, but the college does reserve the right to contact external bodies, such as social services and the police where we feel that the young person's well-being is seriously at risk.

Our Search Policy needs to be followed by staff if they believe a student is carrying a prohibited item.

Parents/carers reporting bullying

If the person you are responsible for has been bullied or is bullying another person:

- Contact the college

8. Consequences of breach of policy

BSC will investigate any student or team member found to be bullying other members of the college community and can expect to face disciplinary proceedings and consequences.

9. Anti-bullying Strategies

Teaching students about bullying needs to be pro-active and evident throughout the college and must be adopted by all BSC team members.

The students who attend BSC may have difficulties with communication. Some students may use forms of behaviour to convey a message rather than talking about an issue. Team members will need to report any signs of possible abuse (such as changes in a student's behaviour) and/or emerging conflicts between students early on. This will help staff support students in recognising and making good choices and avoiding acts of bullying.

The college adopts a range of strategies to prevent bullying, to raise awareness of bullying and to support victims and bullies.

- Support provided to develop students' communication
- Learning strategies to manage their own behaviour
- Acknowledge and respect British Values taught throughout college activities
- Awareness raising about the consequences of specific actions, such as the law
- Examples provided in the behaviour and conduct of managers and staff
- Weekly personal and support tutorials given to all students as opportunities to raise any issues
- E-safety included in sessions
- Parent/carer guidance
- Positive behaviour support plans
- Inclusion team
- Safeguarding training for all staff
- Level 3 Safeguarding training for all Designated safeguarding Leads and Deputies
